FAKE COP 'TRIED TO KIDNAP GIRLS'

Police praise bravery of victims following 'frightening ordeal'

By Adrian Colley

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

A MAN who pretended to be an undercover police officer has been convicted of trying to kidnap six girls aged between 11 and 14.

Abdi Waise, 28, of Kenneth Robbins House, in Northumberland Park, Tottenham, approached the girls separately in a two-and-a-half-hour period in the Crouch End area on January 18 this year.

Wood Green Crown Court was told he had pretended to be a police officer in an effort to make the girls accompany him. His behaviour became increasingly erratic and determined after each attempt failed.

One of the girls became concerned by his behaviour and went straight home.

Another of the girls was shown a glass bottle filled with liquid and accused of buying drugs. Waise tried to lure her and a friend to a nearby residential garden, so he could search them.

He then targeted schoolboys near the clock tower in Crouch End, offering them

Guilty: Abdi Waise

money to use a drug on a girl, stating it would make her faint, but was rebuffed. Another girl was told he knew her mother and it was OK for her to go to his house to have breakfast with him. He stopped her once from running off, but she escaped later and told a schoolteacher.

The following day plain clothes officers stopped and searched Waise in Sydney Road, Hornsey. He was arrested after they found bottles of a drug on him and he was later charged over his actions the previous day.

Detective Chief Inspector Paul Trevers, of Haringey CID, said: "Waise went out with the plan of abducting a girl. He made concerted and increasingly desperate attempts and became increasingly forceful.

"Fortunately, all the girls saw through his ruse and, while frightened, all made it away safely.

"I want to praise the incredibly brave children – both victims and witnesses. They have gone through a very frightening ordeal and shown immense courage."

Waise was found guilty of one kidnap and five attempted kidnaps and is due to be sentenced tomorrow (Thursday).

£300m project gets go-ahead

A HUGE £300million project has been agreed to transform lives and create thousands of jobs in the borough.

A new shopping centre and 800 homes will be built in the latest bid to breathe new life into Haringey.

Haringey Council is teaming up with developer Argent Related to regenerate Tottenham Hale in one of the biggest housing projects in London.

The council's cabinet approved plans last Wednesday for a strategic partnership which will bring together key sites central to ambitions for a new town centre at Tottenham Hale.

Argent Related will build the 800 homes around the Tottenham Hale transport hub. Alongside the mixed-tenure homes, there will be new shops, cafes and restaurants and community facilities, including a health centre.

The redevelopment will also mean improved green spaces and access to both the new Tottenham Hale transport interchange and the Lee Valley Regional Park.

A report to the cabinet said: "The vision is to transform the heart of Tottenham Hale, currently an area dominated by surface car parking and out-of-town retailing, into a safe, open and attractive series of streets and spaces for people."

Council leader Claire Kober said: "Our Tottenham Hale programme will create thousands of new jobs and new affordable homes. We look forward to working with Argent Related to deliver a thriving new town centre with great places to live, work and shop in the heart of Tottenham Hale."

The latest announcement is the final piece in the jigsaw of plans to revamp the Tottenham Hale area. In all, about £1billion will be spent on the various schemes.

A BEAUTIFUL garden paradise has been unveiled at a school where previously an overgrown patch of wasteland stood.

Hornsey and Wood Green MP Catherine West cut the ribbon at a ceremony to mark the official opening of the garden in the grounds of St Martin of Porres Primary School, in Blake Road, Bounds Green.

Parents and school staff volunteered to clear the site and the Sunshine Garden Centre, in Durnsford Road, donated both helpers and materials for free, providing a range of plants and wood to create pathways and seating to make a "story-telling circle".

Teaching assistant Pam Grace, who runs the school's gardening club, said Irene Tyrell, the headteacher, was retiring, and added: "She lent a helping hand in creating the garden and what better legacy could she leave future generations of schoolchildren who enjoy learning in such beautiful surroundings?"

A load of rubbish: Martin Attfield with resident Constantin Cococarua

'No more excuses: sort out this mess'

Landlord demands action over fly-tipping hotspot

By Adrian Colley

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

A STINKING haven for rubbish dumpers should be cleaned up and sorted out once and for all, a landlord claims.

Rotting rubbish and discarded items in Devonshire Mews, Palmers Green, are a health hazard meriting council intervention, says Martin Attfield.

Piles of waste have been left there and, with no known owner, the site is an eyesore and a permanent source of frustration.

Mr Attfield, 52, owns a shop premises in Green Lanes and Devonshire Mews is the service road behind the main road.

He said: "This has been going on for 18 months and it shows no signs of stopping. It's been horrendous.

"Last summer you would gag when you walked past the bins and the stuff that is dumped there. The council will now, reluctantly in my opinion, empty the wheelie bins, but it won't clear up stuff that is on the floor. The residents nearby just have to endure it.

"The service road is 100 metres or so long. It says it does not own the site and cannot trace the owner, but it has an option.

"There's no long-term solution, but it can adopt the road and it's about time it did so."

A spokesman for Enfield

Council said: "As Devonshire Mews is unadopted, there isn't an owner who is responsible for the land and the council is not responsible for collecting any of the dumped waste.

"We have requested that residents help us identify those responsible by giving statements, but, to date, no one has come forward.

"However, in an effort to solve this problem we served 71 warning notices in June to residents which Devonshire Mews serves, warning them of the consequences of dumping waste. Indeed, two £200 fixed penalty notices were issued last week to residents who were fly-tipping in their own street.

"We will continue to monitor and take action where evidence allows and we will book the community payback team to clear the alleyway for the third time in a matter of months."

An impressive line-up: Scooters at the Capel Manor event

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

MOD mayhem descended on a popular outdoor attraction as hundreds of scooter enthusiasts showed off their machines.

Natty suits and snazzy scoots were well to the fore as 400 vehicles were on display in Enfield.

It was the last time Capel Manor Gardens, in Bullsmoor Lane, will host the Foresters Scooter Club Sunday Best Scooterfest, which is moving to a new site next year.

But organiser Maddy Miall said: "It was a great turnout. We had more than 2,000 people along and we had 400 scooters.

"We have competitions and there was even a scooter as first prize in the raffle."

Music was provided by ska band Big10 and the Mad Mods and Englishmen band.

Proceeds are going to Help for Heroes and a children's charity.

THEY must be mad. Test cricket legends Sir Ian "Beefy" Botham and Shane Warne will be playing one hole of golf in Enfield tomorrow (Thursday).

Just the one. Then they'll climb into a helicopter to play one more hole of golf at another club, then another...until they've done 18 holes in all – one in each county that has a professional cricket team.

Enfield Golf Club, in Old Park Road South, has been chosen to represent Middlesex and will be the seventh club in a trip that starts in Durham and comes down south before heading to Wales and ending up in Lancashire.

All proceeds will go to the Beefy Charity Foundation, which helps fund projects relating to chronic illnesses and other challenges that young people face.

Botham and Australian spin ace Warne are due to arrive at Enfield Golf Club at 11.05am before departing for Essex at 11.35am.

Southgate resounds

THE spirit of Rio came to Southgate as schoolchildren staged a Brazilian-style carnival down the high street as part of pre-Olympic Games celebrations.

Youngsters at St Andrew's Primary School, in Chase Road, took part in the procession, much to the amazement of motorists, as they headed to St Andrew's Church for a fashion show.

The school's headteacher Matthew Clifford said: "We wanted to bring a bit of colour to Southgate High Street."

Children have been learning all about Brazil in the run-up to the Rio Olympics next month.

They have sampled Brazilian cookery, learned about popular sports in the south American country and

Jailed: Jamal Mahmoud, Farah Mohammed and Inger Komakech; right, the Skorpion machine gun which was found in the back garden of Komakech's home

Trio jailed following firearms seizure

TWO gang members have been jailed, along with the girlfriend of one of them, after a weapons cache – including a deadly loaded machine gun – was found in the back garden of her Enfield home.

The Skorpion machine gun was among an arsenal of firearms found by the Met Police's Trident Gang Command after a search warrant was executed at an address in Dendridge Close in July last year.

It was the home of 23-year-old Inger Komakech, the girlfriend of Farah Mohammed, 22, a member of the notorious Get The Money gang, who at the time of the weapons seizure was locked up in prison serving a sentence for unrelated matters. He had organised the delivery of weapons to his girlfriend's address via their friend and fellow gang member Jamal Mahmoud, using a mobile phone smuggled into jail.

Mahmoud, 21, like Mohammed, was an active member of the gang, which had operated in the borough for year, and which had been involved in a number of violent attacks linked to turf war disputes with other gangs, Wood Green Crown Court heard on Friday.

When police executed the warrant at Mohammed's girlfriend's home, the property was empty, but in a outbuilding in the back garden they uncovered the arms haul.

The contents of a rucksack revealed a small black case containing two loaded handguns. A small red case was also located and found to contain the loaded Skorpion machine gun.

More than 200 rounds of ammunition were also discovered. The ammunition was in various forms. Some of this was analysed and was designed to expand on impact.

Komakech was arrested at a nearby address and broke down in tears, indicating that a boy called Jamal had given her the rucksack.

Mahmoud was arrested soon afterwards and his phone records led police to Mohammed.

Mohammed, Mahmoud and Komakech all pleaded guilty to firearms-related charges and sent to prison.

Mohammed was jailed for ten years and Mahmoud was given a sentence of six years and six months, which will come into effect after he has served an existing five-and-a-half-year spell for a separate robbery offence.

Komakech was jailed for five years.

Detective Constable Gareth Starr, from the Trident Gang Command, said: "The recovery of this arsenal has undoubtedly saved lives.

"This was a devastating haul of firearms and ammunition destined for the capital's streets for no other aim than to maim, kill and terrify gang rivals and anyone who happened to get in their way."

High-flying superheroes: Eleven-month-old Parker and Poppy Parvar

A FUND-RAISING team of babies used superhuman powers to raise money for baby charity Tommy's, which funds medical research.

The toddlers from Baby Sensory Cheshunt and Enfield were decked in superhero outfits including Superman and Superwoman capes.

The tiny heroes and heroines were on a mission to save babies' lives at the event during one of their classes at Bush Hill Park Bowls, Tennis and Social Club, in Abbey Road.

They were joining in a national campaign to raise £375,000 to help fund four research centres to prevent childbirth and prenatal problems.

Vicci Djemal, who runs Cheshunt and Enfield Baby Sensory classes, said: "This superhero Sensathon was an enormously fun event that encourages parents and babies to tap into their inner Batman and raise funds for the research work Tommy's pioneers into the causes and prevention of miscarriage, stillbirth and premature births."

Trio are sentenced over bid to swindle man out of £52,000

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

A GANG of criminals who persuaded an 80-year-old to pay out £52,000 for "unnecessary work" to his house in a "despicable" con have been convicted.

The victim, who lives in Enfield, was asked to hand over the cash for equipment costs – but became suspicious when he was asked to transfer the same amount to another account, despite the money already clearing through the banks.

Investigators from Enfield Council's trading standards department found that the work the man had been asked to pay for was completely unnecessary.

A total of £17,000 was withdrawn from bank accounts before they were frozen.

Christopher Sammon, 27, from Manchester, was found guilty of two charges of money laundering and has been sentenced at Wood Green Crown Court to four years in prison.

His sister, 29-year-old Eileen Sammon, also from Manchester, was found guilty of converting criminal property after the court heard that some of the victim's cash had been traced to her account.

She was handed a 180-hour community order, with a four-month curfew and a tagging order.

Their accomplice, Jack O'Reilly, 27, of Dymchurch, in Kent, admitted five counts of money laundering.

The court heard that some of the money had been traced to his bank account and he was sentenced to ten months in prison.

Enfield Council's cabinet member for environment Daniel Anderson said the local authority had zero tolerance on confidence tricksters preying on elderly and vulnerable people and warned would-be fraudsters that they would be prosecuted.

He added: "This was a despicable crime against a vulnerable elderly person, so I am very pleased that the people behind this cruel crime have been found guilty and punished in this manner."

AS the summer holidays approach, positive activities for our young people are centre in our minds.

The sports team at Enfield Council hope that the recent European Championships and Wimbledon and the upcoming Olympic Games in Rio will inspire our young people to get out and get active.

We have a whole range of sports courses on offer right across the borough all summer long in our Move More Enfield campaign, ranging from horse riding to gymnastics.

If none of these is up your street, there are also a wide range of sports clubs locally that have activities for all age groups and our partners Fusion are running courses galore in the leisure centres.

In culture, festivals and events abound. Young people are the focus of the mayor's charity initiative Enfield Sounds Great and on Saturday (July 23), from 11am, Palace Gardens Shopping Centre, in Enfield Town, is teaming up with the mayor to collect unwanted musical instruments to distribute to young people who can't afford to buy them.

On August 2, 9 and 16, Millfield Theatre is teaming up with Edmonton Green Shopping Centre to present world-class circus, dance and outdoor arts as part of the Circulate London Festival, which is supported by Mayor of London Sadiq Khan.

With Livestock and the Mayor's Fun Run at Forty Hall, the Enfield Town & Country Show and Pop Up Cinema in Enfield Town Park, the Broomfield Blues and Palmers Green Festival in Broomfield Park, Enfield is awash with summer delights.

There can be no viable case for airport expansion

THE case for airport expansion is built on sand, the vote to leave the EU must bring it crumbling down.

The announcement delaying the controversial decision on how to move forward with airport expansion in the South-East is political manoeuvring at its most cowardly by a government in disarray.

More than that, however, passing the buck on this call demonstrates the Conservatives fundamentally miss the point. It is time to recognise that the case for expansion is fantasy.

It is, and always has been, a myth that the UK faces an airport capacity crisis. We already fly more than any other country, yet the huge budgets of the airport and pro-expansion lobbies are busy trying to convince us otherwise. All but one UK airport is under-capacity and demand is likely to fall, rather than rise following Britain's decision to leave the EU.

Nine of the ten most popular destinations from Britain's busiest airport are short haul flights.

Existing rail services could offer workable alternatives on most of these routes, thus freeing up landing slots for longer haul flights.

As trains are ten times less polluting than planes, this would also be better for the environment.

We cannot hope to meet vital climate change targets while building major new runways – the two policies are incompatible.

Furthermore, the economic case cited by the Airports Commission when recommending expansion was based on implausibly optimistic assumptions. These assumptions cannot claim any credibility, especially in light of the current economic uncertainty.

With the economic case for expansion no longer tenable and environmental case never adding up, it is clear that it's time for the government, whatever shape it might take, to be bold and dismiss these proposals out of hand.

We've been up front about library's future

IN response to Michael Clary's letter (Will library's move lead to permanent closure?, Advertiser, July 13), I reject suggestions that we are being in any way opaque about the future of Southgate Circus Library.

Due to the wider development of the site agreed by the cabinet earlier this year, it was agreed that Southgate Circus Library would move into the college site and share space with the college library.

Enfield library card members will continue to be able to use their library card to access the same range of books, with public access to PCs and free Wi-Fi in designated space.

The library will be open six days a week, compared to the current five, with an approximate additional three hours, increasing its accessibility.

Southgate Circus Library was closed on July 11 and will reopen on August 1 within the college.

The staff have removed items of stock which have not been borrowed for some time or showing signs of wear and tear – an exercise that takes place in all libraries on a regular basis.

When the library reopens within the college, there will be a comprehensive amount of resources/stock for customers to use, in excess of 6,000 items.

We need to hear how diabetes sufferers manage the condition

AT Diabetes UK we know that access to care for people with diabetes is very variable across the country – and that rising numbers of people in London are being diagnosed with diabetes each month.

The most recent figures show that there more than 430,000 people living with diabetes in London.

The all-party parliamentary group for diabetes has launched an investigation into poor diabetes care to help ensure that all people with diabetes get the care and support they need to manage their condition well, no matter where they live.

To support the investigation, we want to hear from people living with diabetes about how diabetes impacts on their day-to-day life, their experiences of care and what good care means to them.

If you would like to participate in the investigation, please email your response to Diabetes-APPG@outlook.com with the subject "APPG Written Evidence Submission – [YOUR NAME]".

More cars are not the solution

IT seems that each week at least one anti-cycling letter is published, sometimes two.

The only solution offered is that we need more cars. Anybody who uses the roads around London will be aware of the amount of traffic and that there is a finite amount of road space.

The obvious answer is to make better use of that road space, so adding cars cannot be the solution. We need good public transport and support for active means of travel, such as walking and cycling. Enfield Council is playing its part and should be supported.

Walthamstow has some old and new cycling infrastructure (as yet unfinished) and, compared to Enfield, is clearly a much less hostile place to cycle. The higher rates of cycling compared to Enfield reflect that.

On a working day I see queues of 20-plus cyclists patiently waiting at red lights and generally being well-behaved. It shows that if you build high quality infrastructure, you encourage cycling which can relieve the stress on other parts of the transport system – be that cars, Tubes and buses – and that can only be a good thing.

This is a failure to plan properly

NOW that it is the statutory consultation phase, I have been looking at the latest ill-conceived plans for turning the A105 from Green Lanes into cycle lanes.

Enfield Council has failed to point out that the cycle route has become shorter, ending nearly 300 yards further south than originally planned.

Consequently, the direct link with the Enfield Town and Southbury Road has become broken. This is unsurprising considering how narrow the A105 is at its northern end.

As a consequence, the five flagship schemes across the borough will not be continuous and unbroken, which surely defeats their rationale.

This demonstrates a failure of three years of planning and enormous public expense. The council should go back to square one or scrap the Mini Holland project entirely.

Cloudy2Clear Windows Celebrates 10th Anniversary by now offering a 25 Year Guarantee to customers

Cloudy2Clear UK Ltd, the UK's Number 1 glass replacement franchise, this year celebrates their 10th year anniversary and in commemoration the company is launching a 25 year guarantee to their customers.

Speaking about the 25 year guarantee, Marcus McGee, Managing Director of Cloudy2Clear UK said, "A decade in, Cloudy2Clear now has the reputation, scale, sustainability and proven track record to be able to launch two programmes that will make a significant difference to the communities in which we operate and also to the consumers we ultimately serve. Firstly, is 'C2C-In-The-Community' – our CSR commitment. Secondly, our 25 Year Guarantee" The 'Cloudy2Clear 25 Year Guarantee' will see participating branches offer customers who replace their failed double glazed units, (just the glass) with a 25 year guarantee on the new glass. The guarantee is provided and covered by C2C UK Warranty LTD and is subject to terms and conditions.

Marcus McGee added, "When we opened our first franchise in 2006, covering the Preston & Blackpool area, we could never have imagined that just 10 years later, we would be opening our 50th branch, an accomplishment we achieved in May of this year. This year also sees us break the milestone of 300,000 enquiries. I believe our popularity and success stems from the fact that we are an honest and ethical service provider that aims to help our customers save money. When a double glazed unit fails and steams up, a lot of people panic and think they have to spend a fortune replacing the entire window, frames and all. This in many cases isn't necessary and Cloudy2Clear will help you change just the glass, saving you money."

Cloudy2Clear has also this year been rewarded for their ethical operations by becoming a 'Which Trusted Trader'. This acknowledgment is testament to the hard work of everyone at Cloudy2Clear in changing the mind-set of the consuming public. Whereas previously there was a trust deficit towards the glazing industry, Cloudy2Clear's efforts to provide free quotations delivered within 20 minutes by their team of accredited and trained representatives, continued efforts to help our customers save money by replacing the glass – not the frames, has been recognised by consumer watchdog powerhouse 'WHICH'.

No men went to mow...

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

A MAN claims Enfield Council's "failure" to cut the grass in his park for the past two months has meant misery for hay fever sufferers like himself.

David Carefore can no longer enjoy a walk in Albany Park, Enfield Wash, because of the extra pollen in the air from a large expanse of unmown grass, which he says is now waist-high.

But if the 63-year-old, from nearby St Stephen's Road, was counting on it being cut so he can return to walk his Jack Russell terrier anytime soon, he is likely to be disappointed.

Enfield Council is leaving the area of grass uncut in the park permanently and is doing the same in 16 selected areas of other open spaces in the borough to create natural wildlife habitats and meadows.

The grass will be cut less frequently, partly because of a squeeze on budgets caused by government funding cuts, but also to maximise the biodiversity ecology of the borough's green spaces.

Mr Carefore, who is a member of Community Action Partnerships for Enfield, said: "I couldn't understand why all of Albany Park's football pitches had been mowed, but a large patch of grassland close to the leisure centre and also near the children's playground hadn't been cut since April.

"I suspected it was done to make savings, but despite repeated complaints to local councillors I never received an explanation.

"The increased grass pollen means that people like myself, who suffer severe hay fever, are forced to forgo the pleasure of using the park.

The not-so-great outdoors: David Carefore says he can no longer walk in Albany Park

"I've also spoken with mums who have children at nearby Chesterfield and Eastfield primary schools who were concerned that youngsters playing in the long grass could be bitten by ticks."

Daniel Anderson, the council's cabinet member for environment, said the local authority was ensuring it used its resources in the most effective way while fulfilling sound ecological management of parks.

He explained: "The council has sought to create habitats that maximise the wildlife value of individual parks while retaining the scope for residents to fully enjoy the green space. To that end, it has been agreed that selected areas within 17 of our parks and open spaces will be left to grow naturally although mown paths will be provided throughout the newly-created habitats, following 'wish' paths defined by natural footfall.

"In addition, where these habitats are being created, there will remain significant areas of the park open for other recreational facilities."

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

ADVERTORIAL

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. "Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Enfield, Edmonton, Palmers Green, Winchmore Hill & Southgate areas and manager Richard Power agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise."

Borough's fire chief bows out after 30 years' service

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

GLOWING tributes were paid this week to Enfield's highest-ranking firefighter Leslie Bowman, who has retired as borough commander following 30 years' service.

Currently the London Fire Brigade's longest-serving black senior fire officer, Les, as he is known, rose through the ranks, having served at stations across the capital, to become borough commander three years ago.

Seven years ago he was awarded the Queen's Fire Service Medal in the birthday honours in recognition of his service to Londoners.

To mark his retirement, a ceremonial roll call was held at Edmonton fire station last week, attended by colleagues and dignitaries.

Les said: "I'm really going to miss just working with a nice group of people and being a borough commander responsible for 180 staff all of whom I know personally. And, of course, I'm also going to miss keeping the community safe."

"One of the highlights of my career was being recognised in the Queen's birthday honours in 2009. I've also loved the many rescues I have been a part of and saving people's property. Those are things I will never forget."

He joined the fire brigade in 1986 and spent all of his career as a firefighter at Dagenham, in east London, with a brief stint at Whitechapel fire station, before becoming a watch manager in the LFB Positive Action team.

In this role, Les encouraged and advised people from London's black and minority ethnic communities to join the brigade.

After working in the team for four years, Les served at Barking fire station and then gained promotion to station manager at Kingsland fire station, in Hackney.

In 2008, he received a contribution to the community award for his work in supporting the Not Another Drop anti-gun and knife crime campaign in Brent. He is one of only a handful of black officers to receive the award.

Retiring: Enfield borough commander Leslie Bowman with Sabrina Cohen-Hatton, the London Fire Brigade's deputy assistant commissioner, and group manager Keeley Foster

The brigade's deputy assistant commissioner Sabrina Cohen-Hatton said: "Les is one of our most committed officers. He has spent significant amounts of his personal and professional time mentoring both firefighters and young people in local communities, in addition to his role as the borough commander of Enfield.

"His dedication and social conscience has significantly progressed the inclusion agenda in London Fire Brigade and he certainly has made London Fire Brigade a better place to work. He will be sorely missed."

Official reopening: Year 6 pupils performed songs from Charlie and the Chocolate Factory at Garfield Primary School

School expansion opens a new era

By Adrian Colley

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

A SCHOOL has unveiled spectacular new buildings. Garfield Primary will provide a modern learning environment and places for an extra 210 children as part of Enfield Council's schools expansion programme.

The new building means that the school, in Upper Park Road, New Southgate, can now admit three classes in every year group and will reach full capacity in four years' time with 630 pupils.

It now has many outstanding facilities, including spacious classrooms with new ICT equipment and furniture, an ICT suite which can be used by pupils and adults, a library, a music room and several specialist rooms for learning support.

Headteacher Karen Khwaja said: "Our vision was to build an outstanding school building that would have excellent facilities reflecting our broad and rich curriculum.

"It was a real labour of love and I thank all the staff, parents, pupils, governors and the council for all their hard work and dedication to achieve this superb new school. We are immensely proud of this achievement."

Garfield has been rated as "good" and was praised last year for being among the 100 top performing schools in the country for sustained improvement in attainment at level 4 or above in reading, writing and maths each year from 2012 to 2015.

Mrs Khwaja added: "We are all aiming to raise our standards even higher and are determined to be rated 'outstanding' at our next Ofsted inspection - this building will help us to get there."

Sounds like summer

PIMM'S and a picnic were the ideal accompaniment for a day of music and dance in Enfield.

Hundreds of people turned out for the Friends of Forty Hall Park shindig on Sunday – and the 17th-century manor house and its grounds, in Forty Hill, provided the perfect backdrop for an afternoon's entertainment.

After a performance by the Etcetera Morris Men, a string of acts enchanted families. Haze Samba, a children's samba group, were followed by a variety of artists, spanning jazz, rock and opera.

Jo-Ann Brown, events volunteer organiser, said: "We had more than 1,000 people come along and we had some very good bands. The money raised will go towards conservation of the park.

"It culminated in an amazing rendition by Benjamin Bloom of Bohemian Rhapsody – it was a quite a showstopper."

Drumming up some interest: Haze Samba perform in the grounds of Forty Hall on Sunday

Give your advertising an unfair advantage. Run some press ads.

The effectiveness consultancy Benchmarking have analysed what happens when companies include press advertising in their media mix.

They looked at 500 econometric models, across a five-year period and discovered that adding newspapers dramatically increases the return on investment of other media.

Over half were service companies who saw the effectiveness of their TV advertising double, ROI of their overall campaigns treble and their online digital display enjoy a four-fold increase.

Individual categories also saw impressive results.

Automotive campaigns clocked a 70% increase. In travel, effectiveness trebled. In retail it leapt by 2.8 times. And most remarkable of all, in the financial category, Benchmarking uncovered an increase of 5.7 times.

So, whatever business you are in, you should be in the newspapers.

ELLIE KURATZ

Help the aged?: Giulia Innocenti and Lucinka Eisler star in The Lounge, which is being previewed at artsdepot

Growing old disgracefully

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

GOD's waiting room is how many of us regard old folks' nursing homes and a new play set in one gives an hilarious and surreal twist to what it means to be in one's dotage.

The Lounge is a darkly comic farce about growing old – a process which will have a profound impact on us all with the UK's rapidly ageing population triggering concerns over how we cope in future with greater demands on healthcare and pensions.

The multi-award-winning Inspector Sands theatre company is previewing the production at Finchley's artsdepot next Thursday (July 28) before heading off to the Edinburgh Fringe Festival next month.

Set in the lounge of a care home, it starts as a slow motion farce and snowballs into one woman's confrontation with her own mortality and the care system.

The day begins as usual for most residents, but unbeknown to 97-year-old Martha Hewitt, it will be her last. However, she is not about to go quietly!

As the radiators burn and Jeremy Kyle blares out from the telly, rivalries, relatives and murderous impulses jostle for space on the carpet and, by teatime, a riot is brewing. Even mealtimes become mini dramas.

The cast, all of whom are in their 30s and 40s, found portraying characters in their 90s not only challenging, but also exhausting.

"The play explores attitudes towards ageing and mortality," says director Lu Kemp.

"We are trying to find the humour and hope within disintegration – to take the audience expectation of a nursing home and invert it, to ask whether it just a place of decline or whether it can be a place of revolution."

You can have your event included in the Enfield Advertiser for free. STAR TREK BEYOND (12A, 122 mins)

DEDICATED to Anton Yelchin, who died in a freak accident in June, and the late Leonard Nimoy, the third instalment of the rebooted Star Trek is a familiar conflation of past and future present that fails to set its phasers to stun.

JJ Abrams vacated the director's chair to make Star Wars: The Force Awakens, so Justin Lin, who helmed four turbo-charged entries of The Fast And The Furious franchise, steps into the fray.

He orchestrates action set pieces with confidence although some of the interstellar skirmishes are reduced to a dizzying blur by gyroscopic camerawork and overly enthusiastic editing.

In 3D and IMAX, the giddy whirl will be even more disorienting.

Scriptwriters Simon Pegg and Doug Jung stoke up the comedic ante with a slew of wry one-liners and they complement one outlandish set piece with a deafening blast of the Beastie Boys' 1994 hip hop anthem, Sabotage.

"Is that classical music?" quips chief medical officer Dr Leonard McCoy (Karl Urban) over the cacophony.

Refreshingly, Sulu's sexuality is addressed without politically correct fanfare, propelling the adventures of Kirk and his embattled crew into a 21st century which believes that strength comes from cultural unity.

The crew of the Enterprise are three years into their five-year mission to boldly go where the cult 1960s' TV show went before, without the benefit of state-of-the-art digital effects.

Crew: John Cho plays Sulu, Anton Yelchin is Chekov, Karl Urban plays Bones, Chris Pine is Kirk, Zachary Quinto plays Spock and Simon Pegg is Scotty.

Captain James T Kirk (Chris Pine) is considering relinquishing the bridge because "things have started to feel a little... episodic".

He keeps his plans secret from the rest of the crew, including science officer Spock (Zachary Quinto), communications officer Uhura (Zoe Saldana), navigator Pavel Chekov (Yelchin), chief engineer Montgomery Scott (Simon Pegg) and helmsman Sulu (John Cho).

During a visit to a Federation starbase under the control of Commodore Paris (Shohreh Aghdashloo), an alien called Kalara (Lydia Wilson) issues a distress call to help recover her ship, which has crash-landed on a planet in a distant nebula.

Kirk and the team respond and subsequently come under attack from an otherworldly despot, Krall (Idris Elba), and his swarming drones.

While the Enterprise crew forges an alliance with feisty alien warrior Jaylah (Sofia Boutella), Kirk holds firm to his moral compass, defiantly informing Krall that it's "better to die saving lives than to live taking them".

Star Trek Beyond dodges the curse of misfiring, odd-numbered films in the series, but the flaws are obvious.

Pine, Quinto and co are solid in roles that lack dramatic meat and don't progress the characters over two hours, and a flimsy, contrived plot resolves potential conflict with minimum blood, sweat and tears.

Throughout, the script affirms the need for the multi-species crew to stick together in times of adversity. At least the utopian vision of original series creator Gene Roddenberry is in rude health.

BREXIT & House Prices

Perhaps understandably, there has been considerable speculation as to the direction in which house prices are heading. As a Chartered Surveyor in the estate agency sector, I am one of a selection of individuals providing monthly statistics and comment to the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors (RICS). Last Thursday RICS published its first post-referendum report based upon the returns of my various colleagues up and down the country. Most surveyors seem to agree that the prospect of Brexit has caused buyer demand to fall, and some have suggested that prices may decline.

Here in Enfield I am happy to report that, although buyers are more cautious than they were at the beginning of the year, sentiment has not taken a dive! At Barnfields we have lost very little as a result of the 'Leave' decision and, encouragingly, new sales are being agreed.

During my working day I also have reason to talk to other local agents, and all have reported a similar experience. I sense that in the short term there will be a period of nervousness during which some buying decisions will be deferred. But there are so many people needing housing in the borough that a reasonably normal market will re-establish itself before long.

At Barnfields we have had the experience of working through several economic shocks over the years, including the ERM departure and the global crisis of 2008. We have learned that, if you want to sell your property, you must set a sensible asking price. Taking over-optimistic advice is likely to result in disappointment. So do make sure you choose an agent with a good track record and a high level of local knowledge.

JANSSEN JUST THE JOB FOR THE BOSS

HEAD coach Mauricio Pochettino believes that new striker Vincent Janssen will be a perfect fit for Tottenham Hotspur.

The 22-year-old Dutch international joined Spurs from AZ Alkmaar this week for a reported £17million following a season which saw him score 27 goals in 34 matches in Holland's Eredivisie.

And, having finally secured the services of a player who Tottenham had been pursuing since the end of last season, Pochettino is certain that Janssen will make a big impact in his time at the club.

"Vincent is still very young and his potential to develop is massive," the head coach said. "He has a profile that fits perfectly for us.

"He has quality in the box and he's a striker who likes to fight and work for the team. That is perfect for us. We are very happy and excited that he has joined us.

"His human profile is perfect for the team, we always care about that. In general, he's a player who fits the team.

"We're all excited. It's early in pre-season and he will have time to adapt. We wish all the best for him."

Although Janssen may find himself acting predominantly as back-up to Harry Kane, he is thrilled to have made the move and believes he can prosper at White Hart Lane.

"It's a beautiful club and I have a great chance to develop myself here," he said.

"I can train with a young, talented group with a very good staff and I'm ready to develop myself. I can grow with this group. It's a very talented group and next season we're in the Champions League as well, so that's very nice.

"It's always been a dream for me to play in the Champions League. When I was a little child I watched every game in the Champions League. I was so excited to watch that. Now it's coming close.

"I really like the way the team plays. I hope to play a lot, score a lot of goals and win prizes."

Janssen donned a Tottenham shirt for the first time on Saturday when Spurs played Fulham in a training ground friendly.

The visitors won 1-0 thanks to a goal in the 88th minute by Luca de la Torre – and Janssen was denied a last-gasp equaliser by a fingertip save from Fulham goalkeeper Jesse Joronen.

The match gave Pochettino another opportunity to field a combination of senior and young players as he ran the rule over a number of development squad members.

Meanwhile, Spurs have been trying to negotiate a deal with Marseille to sign winger Georges-Kevin Nkoudou, a France under-21 player.

Spurs are off to Australia at the end of this week.

They face Italian champions Juventus and Champions League finalists Atletico Madrid in Melbourne in the International Champions Cup, on Tuesday (July 26) and next Friday (July 29) respectively.

'Perfect fit': Mauricio Pochettino is 'happy and excited' after the signing of striker Vincent Janssen

Captain Tom leads the way

SKIPPER Tom Nicoll shone with bat and ball as North Middlesex romped to a 115-run victory at home to bottom-of-the-table Eastcote in the Premier Division of the Middlesex County Cricket League on Saturday.

The all-rounder became the first player in the league's 45-year history to score a century and take eight wickets in the same match.

He started his outstanding performance by going to the wicket with North Middlesex struggling on 27-3 after he had won the toss and decided to bat first.

With Nicoll hitting a run-a-ball 124, including 16 4s and two 6s, and Evan Flowers and Mitchell Murray chipping in with 52 and 62 respectively, the home side rallied to reach 308-9 after 59 overs.

He brought himself on to bowl as Eastcote passed 50 without loss and proceeded to operate from one end as the visitors were dismissed for 193 in 57.3 overs.

Nicoll made the initial breakthrough when Thomas Hudson was stumped and then picked up the last seven wickets to finish with the fine figures of 8-72 in 21.3 overs. Daniel Travers (47 not out) and Jawwad Rasheed (30) provided the only prolonged resistance during a seventh-wicket partnership of 55.

Hornsey slipped from second to third place in Division Two after losing a tense, low-scoring match at Enfield by four wickets.

Put into bat, Hornsey were bowled out for 126 in 55 overs – a total which would have been considerably lower but for the lower-order efforts of Jack Goldberg (25) and Nii-Amaa Olennu (33).

Ben Waine made early inroads into the Enfield innings, claiming three quick wickets as the home side slumped to 11-3.

Olennu disposed of Jack Plumb (21) and Paul Weekes caught and bowled both Kyal Bacchus-Brown (33) and Asad Shah (10) before Enfield clinched victory with five overs to spare thanks to Joe Naughton (22 not) and Dan Amedee (17 not out).

Waine finished with 3-41 and Weekes, who bowled throughout the innings, took 2-49 in 19.5 overs.

One from bottom Highgate picked up an important win – and 12 points after being put into bat – by beating Harrow St Mary's by 122 runs.

The home side declared after 51 overs on 261-9 with Sandun Dias (91) the mainstay of their innings, hitting five 6s and eight fours.

Harrow St Mary's were dismissed for 143 with five overs to spare.

Craig Gourlay, who had cracked 38 off just 12 balls at the end of the Highgate innings, completed a fine match with figures of 5-35 in 15 overs and Dias followed up his batting exploits by taking 3-32.

In Division Three, North London took five points from their winning draw at Bessborough.

The visitors piled up 270-7 in 50 overs after losing the toss and Bessborough replied with 163 for 6 in 50 overs.

North Middlesex are away to Teddington this Saturday (11am) while Hornsey travel to Indian Gymkhana, Highgate go to Wembley and North London are at home to Brentham – all these matches starting at 12.30pm.

Ujah lands Olympic 100m spot

CHIJINDU Ujah has been rewarded for his fine performance at the European athletics championships by securing a spot in Team GB for the 100metres at next month's Olympic Games

Having missed out on automatic qualification for Rio at the British trials, the Enfield and Haringey Athletic Club sprinter was only involved in the 4x100m relay at the European championships in Amsterdam.

He rose to the occasion as he produced a sparkling run on the anchor leg to guide Britain to victory and his impressive form led to Ujah being given the third discretionary spot for the individual 100m when the selectors announced their full squad, in addition to taking his expected place in the sprint relay team.

Ujah is one of five competitors from the Enfield and Haringey club who have been picked for Team GB, with Delano Williams securing a spot in the men's 4x400m relay squad.

Desiree Henry had already booked a spot in the women's 100m at the British trials, but her place in the Olympics is in doubt after she pulled up with an injury at the European championships.

Henry has also been named in the women's 4x100m relay squad alongside

On his way to Rio: Enfield and Haringey AC sprinter Chijindu Ujah has been selected for the 100metres at the Olympic Games

Enfield and Haringey teammate Bianca Williams, while Margaret Adeoye is in the women's 4x400m relay team.
